Internet Safety Resources

The following sites will help you learn more about keeping your children safe on the Internet:

CyberTipline
www.missingkids.com/cybertip
Make a report of online sexual exploitation through this service of the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children.

GetNetWise
www.getnetwise.org
This site offers a number of helpful resources, including a comparison of filtering tools and social networking site tutorials.

K9 Web Protection
www.k9webprotection.com
Free Internet filtering software and parental controls from Blue Coat.

NetSmartz.org
www.netsmartz.org
Information, tools, and tips about online safety for parents, children, teenagers, law enforcement professionals, and educators.

SafetyClicks
www.safetyclicks.com
Tips, information, and articles for parents and children.

Chat Abbreviations
www.missingkids.com/adcouncil/pdf/lingo/onlinelingo.pdf
The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children's comprehensive list of common online abbreviations and acronyms.

Search engines and research websites for kids
These kid-friendly sites offer age-appropriate search results:

AllSafeSites
www.allsafesites.com
A child-safe Internet search engine.

American Library Association's Great Websites for Kids
https://www.ala.org/greatsites
A comprehensive list by subject area of child-safe websites.

Common Sense Media
www.commonsensemedia.org
This site reviews websites and other media for children and rates them according to their age-appropriateness.

KidsClick!
www.kidsclick.org
This site, owned and run by the School of Library and Information Science at San Jose State University, was created by librarians to offer children a safe way to search for information online.

OneKey
www.onekey.com
An Internet search engine that filters out pornography and explicit sexual content from results.